

PRESIDENT RUSSELL PRAISES BLUE GRASS LEAGUE

In a statement given out to the press, Thomas M. Russell, of Maysville, president of the Blue Grass League, declares that the first season of the League has been a decided success, and indicated by the tone of his statement that he was well pleased with the showing made during the season by the different clubs.

All of the clubs in the circuit, he stated, showed a healthy financial condition at the season's end, and each city represented in the League has retained its franchise, and will be among those present when the play is resumed on the different lots in 1923.

Lexington, whose team dropped out of the league several days before the season ended, will have a franchise next year and the club's owners are already planning to construct a baseball park in the downtown section of the city.

President Russell has worked untiringly in his endeavor to make the Bluegrass circuit a go, and continued an uphill fight in the face of many obstacles until he has apparently made a success of the venture. The close of the 1922 campaign found almost every team greatly strengthened by the acquisition of new players and the loop showed great improvement in the brand of ball displayed earlier in the season. This in itself speaks well for the success of the 1923 pennant-chase and if the Bluegrass League survives two more playing seasons Central Kentucky fans may expect to witness some fast base ball, providing, of course, the circuit shows the same progress it has in the 1922 season.

ARRANGING JOINT CELEBRATION OF KENTUCKY DAY

"Kentucky Day," to be held November 11, will be celebrated jointly with a luncheon at the Phoenix hotel by alumni of the University of Kentucky and of Transylvania College if the invitation extended Transylvania graduates by the Lexington alumni club is accepted.

Kentucky day is the day set aside by the University for college celebrations by alumni clubs and individual graduates all over the world.

Since the celebration falls this year on Armistice day, the Lexington club has invited the Transylvania alumni to help make the occasion a college and patriotic jubilee.

If the Transylvanians accept, President A. D. Harmop, of Transylvania, and Dr. F. L. McVey, of the University, will be asked to be the chief speakers on the program.

WILL OPPOSE LODGE

Joseph Walker, unsuccessful opponent of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican nomination for Senator in the primaries last month, in a statement said he would support John A. Nichols, prohibition progressive candidate for Senator, in the election on November 7. He said that otherwise he would vote for the Republican ticket.

"I have the firm conviction," his statement said, "that the paramount duty of the voters of Massachusetts is to defeat Henry Cabot Lodge. Mr. Lodge is on the wrong side of great national and international questions. He is leading his party to certain defeat. The defeat of Mr. Lodge will not destroy the Republican majority in the Senate, but it will lessen the power of the Old Guard Bloc."

PERPETUAL MOTION

(Danville Advocate)

Some time ago, W. J. Lay, of the Parkville section cut his tobacco and put it on sticks in his barn to remain until fully cured for the market. When he had hung one stick in the top of the barn he noticed that it continued to rock. Two weeks later, some hunters passing by the barn and hearing the peculiar rocking noise began an investigation but were unable to discover the source. They called Mr. Lay and much to his surprise, it was discovered that the tobacco was still rocking with as much force as when it was placed on the top rack in the barn.

SOFT DRINK STAND IS PUBLIC PLACE

Judge Cochran after hearing motions to squash prosecution of several persons charged with the violation of the Volstead law, at Covington, after the officers had entered their places and taken samples of beer and otherwise investigated the premises, held that a soft drink stand is a public place and that the prohibition officers have the same right to enter as any one else. If when in there, said the court, they "smell" or observe the sale of beverages they have the right to take sample without first having obtained a search warrant.

DIGS UP POT OF GOLD

While digging a pit for a sawmill near Mt. Victory, in Pulaski county, it became known, Dave Jones drove his pick into a pot containing the equivalent of $48,000 in gold of ancient English coinage. The pot is in the custody of the State Banking Commissioner at Frankfort for investigation of ownership. The money is to be kept 12 months, during which time claims may be filed for ownership, but if these are not properly proved Jones gets the money, it is said.

Jones said he estimated the value of the coins at $18,000, but the Frankfort authorities weighed it to ascertain its value. The pot bore the initials "J. B."

In pioneer Kentucky days this section was the scene of the operations of a band of robbers who killed a number of settlers, records show. It is believed either that some settler buried the money to hide it from them, or it was hidden there by the robbers.

The lad who courts his girl near the front window evidently believes in winning by a shade.
